RUTLAND AND VICINITY.

The sun sets to-night at 7:28; rises tomorrow morning at 4:26.

Remember the village meeting this evening at 7:30. It is an important meeting, in which all tax-payers are interested.

Colonel Albert Clarke of the St. Albans Messenger, who is to deliver the Decoration Day oration, arrived in town yesterday and is stopping at the Barndale House.

All comrades are ordered to bring their G. A. R. caps and belts, and also white gloves, and all soldiers are requested to wear, if possible, army caps, waist-belts and white gloves.

The circulation of the New York Graphic, the new daily illustrated paper which is rapidly increasing, is said to be already larger than that of any other evening paper in the country.

Rev. A. A. Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Rutland Messenger, formerly of Rutland, is to commence his pastoral at Montpelier.

Post Roberts.

The following are the officers of Post Roberts 14, G. A. R., under whose auspices the ceremonies of Decoration Day will be rendered:

H. W. Kingsley, Commander.
 Jas. H. Dyer, Senior Vice-Commander.
 E. C. Baker, Junior " "
 E. M. Edgerton, Adjutant.
 L. G. Kingsley, Quarter Master.
 Dr. C. L. Allan, Surgeon.
 H. W. Nye, Chaplain.
 J. A. Salisbury, Sergeant Major.
 Daniel Chittenden, C. M. Sergeant.
 Samuel H. Kelley, Officer of the Day.
 H. O. Edson, Officer of the Guard.

DISGRACEFUL.—Last evening about the hour when our streets are filled with ladies and gentlemen, enjoying the air of twilight, Centre street, near Merchants' Row, was regaled by a disgraceful scene. A rowdy who had probably been filling himself with whiskey, got into an altercation with some one and took occasion to use the worst and foulest language known in the rowdy's vocabulary.

His loud talk and excited gesticulations served to attract a crowd, when, fearing the merited arrest, he slunk away out of sight before any official could get hold of him. It is to be hoped the chap may be caught and made an example of, as such scenes as this are not only offensive to the ears of every good citizen but criminal alike in their nature and to the best interests of our community.

Taxpayers' Attention!

Editors Rutland Globe: Please call attention to the village meeting, this day, Friday, at the Village Hall, at 7:30, to consider the subjects of taxes and sewers—the first an unendurable burden, to nearly every man who has a tract of public patronage to suck and who promptly pays his debts at the rate of one hundred cents on a dollar. And the other, the sewers—the way they have been managed and thousands of dollars worse than thrown away upon them—are a stench in the nostrils of every honest man. Turn out. To your tents, O Israel! "The Philistines are upon thee!"

THE COUNTY AND ELSEWHERE.

Ludlow.
 At a meeting of the stockholders of the Ludlow Toy manufacturing Company held on Friday evening, the following gentlemen were elected as directors:—Surry Stimpson, E. A. Howe, I. E. Sherman, Cyrus Buzzell, and Homer N. Parker. The committee on by-laws reported, and the same was adopted.

The directors are now looking for a suitable place for a building shop. It is barely possible that the new factory may be situated in the lower village, below the residence of Mr. Billings. They start with a cash capital of $10,000.

Rev. J. P. Farrar, has returned from his vacation, and will resume his labors next Sunday.

William Allen Bacon supplied the pulpit of the Baptist Church last Sunday, delivering a discourse in the morning on "Practical" Christianity work, and in the evening, related his experience in Mission work in New York City. A memorial service was held in the afternoon, Rev. J. N. Perry, preaching the sermon. The house was full, it being a union meeting. The Rev. Mr. Cook, who has resigned the pastorate of the Congregational Church at Windsor, supplied the Congregational Church at this place last Sunday.

Decorations day is to be observed as a general holiday. E. A. Howe will deliver the address. The comrades of this Post will decorate the soldiers' graves in Cavendish in the afternoon. The procession will form at 11 o'clock in Main Street, and proceed to the cemetery in this place. The Atholton cornet band will furnish the music.

MASSACHUSETTS.—At the annual convention of the Massachusetts Press Association, now numbering 125 members, will begin its annual excursion, this year, Tuesday, June 17, when they will gather at Housatonic, where they will be entertained during the day, and in the evening the business meeting will be held at the Arnold house in North Adams. Wednesday, they will go by way of Troy and Glen's Falls to Caldwell at the head of Lake George, where the evening will be devoted to a levee and dance. Thursday, going by steam the entire length of Lake George, they will embark at Fort Ticonderoga for Burlington, where a reunion, with poems, speeches, and music, will be held in the evening. From this point the party will return home, either by way of the Central Vermont railroad, or down the Hudson to New York, and home by way of the Sound.

Asahel Miller one of the oldest inhabitants of Ludlow, died on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Miller went out in his usual health on Monday morning to his chores. He was engaged in putting a pole on a cow that for the first time this season he was turning out to pasture. He called on Russell Wilder who was waiting to drive the cow, to assist him, and suddenly placed his hand on his head and exclaimed "O dear, what a head-ache I have got." Mr. Wilder after some difficulty assisted him into the house where he was laid upon his bed, where he remained unconscious until Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when he died. Mr. Miller has been for many years identified with the history of Ludlow. He was a kind friend and neighbor, and a man who was universally respected. He was eighty two years old.

Vegetation is all aglow with beauty, notwithstanding snow patches abound on the hills. The farmers are hurried but happy. The promises of an abundant grass crop are all that could be desired.

Messrs. Storkey and Jenkinson, the lessees of the Ludlow House, are putting in new furniture, beds, etc. They have made marked improvements in the house, and will be ready on Monday for our city cousins, who will find pleasant rooms at fair prices.

The Messrs. Sherman, our news agents, furnish quite a number of the Globe, and as yet, we have heard naught but commendation.

Middlebury.

We call the following news items from the Register:

Decorations Day will be observed with appropriate ceremonies at East Middlebury in the morning, and at Middlebury in the afternoon. Several short addresses will be made.

The business firms of Middlebury have agreed to close their places of business at 6 p.m. on Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Hooker, pastor of the Congregational church, returned from his vacation last week, but preached in Orwell, in exchange with Rev. Mr. Severance, Sunday morning. Mr. Severance was called home to attend a funeral in the afternoon and Mr. Hooker returned and preached in the evening at his own church, a memorial sermon of the deceased soldiers in the late war.

Mr. Dix, publishes the following card in reference to closing his saloon:

Among the "indulgences" offered by Mr. Dix to Mr. Rockwell to become his ball is the following pledge:

Being convinced that the sale of intoxicating drinks is a lever to the ruin of the human race, I hereby pledge myself before God, angels and men, that I never will again engage in its practice in the town of Middlebury, either directly or indirectly, either personally or by proxy. So help me God.

W. H. Dix, Middlebury, May 17, 1873.

STATE NEWS.

Bennington County.
 A man in the employ of Hon. H. C. Canfield, of Arlington, while working in the cellar the other day noticed, as he supposed, a pitcher of cider, and of course took a drink. He soon found out, however, that instead of its being cider it was strong liquor. He had been using about making soap. It about killed the poor fellow; he has not been able to work yet. We hope he will get over it, and the next time he takes a drink examine the pitcher and see whether it contains cider or lie.

P. T. Barnum to the Public.

A rumor—originating with, and industriously circulated by, unscrupulous showmen, having gained some credence, that I would divide my great traveling exhibition on leaving Boston, I beg to state that such an idea has never entertained for a moment. The vast enterprise—involved a vast outlay of money, and the success of the enterprise is the crowning effort of my managerial life, and I am determined to keep the monster combination intact during the entire season. The public's obedient servant, P. T. BARNUM.

In the matter of CURRIER & DEAN.
 Bankrupts, an order of $4,000 has been made for the assignment for the 15th interest of each of said bankrupts (200 shares in all) to the mortgage of right of way, marble, fixtures, and referred to said bankrupts' schedules, situated in Brandon, Vermont, about 15 miles from the village, and containing some 200 acres. The value of said property is contingent and uncertain, depending on the character of the marble, the nearness of transportation, and means of extensive introduction and application. It is heavily encumbered by a first mortgage of some $10,000, and by a claim of some $4,000 more, held by the trustees of estate of Jonathan Burnitt, and secured by valid lien on said property. The assignees have to make a sale of said property, or pay off the encumbrances, and deem it unwise to put it up at public auction in its present condition. They have made every effort to find a purchaser at private sale, that being the only way to dispose of such property, and they hereby give notice that they will ask the District Court of the United States for Massachusetts, at the Court House in Boston, on the 4th of June next, at ten o'clock a. m., for leave to accept said order, and sell said interest of said bankrupts for said sum at private sale, unless some better offer is made.
